

Big 3 Ministers Unlikely To Solve Serious Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—When the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France meet here Thursday, they will be a substitute crew in a boat with an erratic compass and no weather report.

It's only by accident they are meeting at all. British Prime Minister Churchill suggested they get together when he became too fatigued and had to delay a Bermuda meeting with President Eisenhower and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

And of the three foreign ministers, Secretary of State Dulles is the only one who is either full-fledged or has a sense of permanency.

Eden To Be Absent

The Marquis of Salisbury is filling in for the ailing Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary. The French foreign minister, Georges Bidault, cannot be too sure that whatever he says will have his new government's backing or that his government will be in power long.

In a general way, the three ministers know where they want to go: toward world peace. But their compass needle flutters under the impact of events. And they can't tell what storms lie ahead because they are meeting at a moment of confusion and uncertainty.

As they prepared for the meeting, none of them could predict what the score might be in Korea by Thursday: a final agreement on an armistice by Korea's obstinate president, Syngman Rhee, or a new explosion.

Can't Guess Red Move

They would like to think the riots in Eastern Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia, the change of Communist leaders in Hungary, the sudden decision of Moscow to call home its ambassadors for conference all meant a weakening of Russian control over its satellites and confusion about its foreign policy.

And maybe those events meant just that. But none of the three ministers could guess what move Moscow might make next: a new, hard, iron fisted policy, such as Stalin used, or real concessions to the West.

But they knew it might be only wishful thinking if they believed the uprisings in Germany would persuade the Russians to let East and West Germany unite.

For of the East Germans can show such hatred for Moscow while still under the Russian heel, the Russians know these same people, once free of them, would be more foe than friend.

Army's Program For Reserves Falls Flat

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's program to maintain a ready reserve of trained men made up of former draftees is falling flat.

Only about 4.17 per cent of draftees who have finished two years of active service are participating in reserve training units—although the selective service law prescribes a military obligation in the reserves of five or six years after discharge from active duty.

The trouble, say Army officials, is this:

While the selective service law states that upon completion of two years' active duty a man shall be assigned to a reserve training unit, there is nothing in the law that compels him to train. The law has no punitive provision covering reserve duty, although it contains definite penalties for draft evasion.

The situation has concerned the Army for some time. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, retiring Army chief of staff, said several months ago he intended to recommend that the law be amended to cut in half the time of a man's reserve obligation if he would volunteer to join an organized reserve unit or the National Guard.

Draftees who were inducted prior to amendment of the selective service law in 1951 were obligated to five years of reserve status, those drafted after that date to six years.

Collins apparently prefers amending the law to induce a man to go into reserve training, rather than punishing him if he doesn't.

PROBER SCORED — The three Democrats on Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Senate investigating Subcommittee have demanded that the body "take appropriate action" against the group's staff director, J. B. Matthews (above), for a "shocking and unwarranted attack against the American clergy." Senators McClellan, Symington and Jackson centered their fire on Matthews for his article in the July issue of American Mercury which they said began: "The largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the U. S. today is composed of Protestant clergymen." (NEA Telephoto)

Over 400 Killed In Holiday Accidents, 27 In Michigan

Three Escape Drowning Here Over Weekend

Three men narrowly escaped drowning in the Escanaba area over the holiday weekend. Two were fishermen whose boat capsized in rough water near Ford River and the third was a swimmer who was rescued at Ludington Park Beach.

The Green Bay fishermen, Gerald C. Kolb, 38, of 1263 Chicago Street, and his brother, Harold Kolb, 40, of 825 Oneida St., were dumped into the water about 5 p. m. Saturday evening when a wave capsized their boat.

The accident occurred about 900 feet from shore one-half mile north of the mouth of Ford River while the men were walleye fishing.

Rescued By Boat

The men clung to the sides of the boat, calling for help. The boat anchor fell out and held the craft from drifting toward shore and shallower water.

Their cries were heard by Robert Peterson and Tom Dufour of Escanaba. Dufour made an effort to rescue the men but was forced back by the heavy seas.

They notified the office of Sheriff

Laniel Cabinet Faces Big Test

PARIS (AP)—The new government of Premier Joseph Laniel outlined today a series of new taxes, reductions of expenditures, and means for paying back advances from the Bank of France through which it hopes to get the nation's teetering economy back on a stable basis.

Roughly, the measures which the Laniel Cabinet is proposing, are those which caused the downfall of the Reme Mayer government on May 21. Each of the four candidates for premier who were rejected by the National Assembly during the 37-day crisis which followed Mayer's ouster also said the measures would be needed.

Laniel was reported to have decided to pose the question of confidence of his measures, thus risking his week-old Cabinet. The debate in the National Assembly will take up most of this week.

Although he will face powerful opposition on many points, it was believed the Assembly would hesitate to throw out Laniel, with the recent record crisis so fresh in the memory of the deputies.

Laniel also said his Cabinet would need special powers to make necessary economies. It was on this specific issue that the Assembly defeated Mayer.

session with Rhee, lasting one hour, 40 minutes.

"Friendly Atmosphere"

Robertson declined to indicate whether he is making headway in persuading Rhee to accept a truce.

He said only, "The atmosphere of all our talks has been friendly and cordial" and another meeting will be held.

No time was set for the next session.

Secret Conference

Meanwhile, another secret conference was held in Seoul by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. commander of Allied ground forces in Korea, and his U. S. advisers to the South Korean Army.

Despite a U. S. Eighth Army announcement that the session was a routine monthly affair, there was speculation that the discussed military problems that would arise if a truce is signed without Rhee's guarantee that the 16 ROK divisions would observe the cease-fire.

Rhee has threatened to fight on alone if the truce agreement which had appeared ready for signing at Panmunjom last month is completed.

Rhee Stands Pat On His Demand For Unified Korea

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee is standing pat on his demand to renew the Korean fighting if a post-armistice political conference fails to agree in 90 days on unifying Korea, an authoritative South Korean source said today.

The source, who insisted on anonymity, also confirmed reports that the U. S. has offered Rhee a face-saving two-point compromise to win his support of a truce.

But Rhee's demand for a conference limit is the stumbling block of the 11-day talks between Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, President Eisenhower's special envoy, the source told Associated Press Correspondent Bill Shinn.

Compromise Terms

The compromise reportedly provides for the U. S. to:

1. Agree to join South Korea in walking out of the conference if after 90 days it had made no progress toward peaceful unification of Korea.

2. After such a walkout, "discuss" on a diplomatic level resumption of the war, with the understanding that any action would have to be ratified by the U. S. Senate.

Shinn interviewed the authoritative source shortly after Robertson emerged from his ninth secret

Lightning Bolt Explodes Shells

CHICAGO (AP)—Lightning touched an Army ammunition dump on Chicago's Northwest Side Sunday night rocking a half-mile-square area with a tremendous post-Fourth of July fireworks display.

Some 3,000 residents were evacuated from their homes but no injuries reported.

Exploding 120-mm shells set off brilliant orange flashes in the sky backed by the blazing red of a burning anti-aircraft installation building.

The fire was brought under control quickly, preventing possible explosion of one of two other ammunition stores. Army officials said the explosions followed a bolt of lightning which struck in the area during a thunderstorm.

Also endangered was a Chicago Transit Authority terminal where 36,000 gallons of propane and 20,000 gallons of gasoline were stored. Steel fire doors to tanks holding the fuels were shut down by STA employees almost immediately.

Viet Nam Approves France's Offer Of More Independence

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Viet Nam chief of state Bao Dai and his government today threw their support behind France's offer of greater independence for the three associated states of Indochina—Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

"Bao Dai and the Viet Nam government, after studying the French declarations, consider that they translate the will of France to fulfill completely the nationalist aspirations of the Vietnamese people."

Rep. Condon Banned From Atomic Tests

By JERRY T. BAULCH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Condon (D-Calif.) said today he was banned from witnessing an atomic test on security grounds and, although since cleared, he wants to know "just how far is the bar in the political climate for liberals."

All members of Congress were invited to witness one of the atomic explosions conducted in Nevada last May, and nearly 100 accepted. Condon said he went to Nevada on a special plane with other congressmen, and that:

"The two men I talked to at Las Vegas told me I could not see the test because of security reasons. They said they could tell me nothing further, that I would have to see Gordon Dean, then chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission."

Condon said he was "outraged—I didn't understand what scared them."

Since returning to Washington, Condon continued in an interview, he has had two meetings with Dean, who retired June 30 as AEC chairman. He quoted Dean as saying it was "some sort of mistake" and that Condon was clear to witness further atomic tests. Dean could not be reached for comment, and AEC sources immediately reached said they knew nothing of the incident.

Condon quoted Dean as telling him the FBI had a report on the congressman. Condon said he assumed it stemmed from "a reshuffle of state political charges thrown" when he ran for the State Legislature in 1948 and 1950 and when he ran for Congress last year.

Condon said that during his election campaigns, opponents accused him of connections with left-wing organizations. He said he was criticized because he served with a law firm which represented the CIO in the San Francisco area and that he made a number of speeches before trade unions "which people didn't appreciate."

At Least 258 Lose Lives In Auto Mishaps

(By The Associated Press)

Fourth of July week end, garnished with generally good weather brought fun to millions—but violent death to more than 400 persons.

The nation's automobile drivers apparently were careful enough to beat the National Safety Council's prediction that 290 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday local time. But not by much.

At least 258 persons died in highway and street accidents. Another 120 drowned and 49 died in miscellaneous accidents.

There was one fireworks fatality. The two-day holiday week end toll, 427 lives, was substantially smaller than the 643 recorded for the three-day Independence Day week end of 1952. Last year, traffic accidents claimed 366, drownings 202, fireworks 2 and miscellaneous 73.

HEAVY TRAFFIC

Violent accidents which claimed at least 27 lives marred Michigan's hot and humid Fourth of July weekend.

Traffic accidents killed 17 persons; drownings claimed nine victims; and one man died in a carnival mishap.

The perfect summer weekend brought motorists out in near record numbers. State police said cars inched along bumper-to-bumper on main highways from Sunday afternoon until midnight.

6 Killed, 6 Hurt

Mrs. Ethel Mae Stamey, 23, and Charles W. Stamey, 17, both of Detroit, were among six persons killed in the two-car collision near Lancaster, Ky., Sunday. Six persons were critically injured.

Other traffic dead included: Jack Binsden, 49, his 13-year-old son Kenneth, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Dertz, all of Detroit, who lost their lives in a two-car crash in Detroit Saturday.

The Brinsden family was picnicking when another car rammed their auto at an intersection. Four other persons were injured in the collision.

Driver Falls Asleep

Allan R. Zercher, 22, of Detroit, killed Sunday when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and his car rolled over on the Willow Run Expressway.

Soviets Arrest 50,000 In Quelling Uprising

BERLIN (AP)—East Europe's Soviet masters displayed both the iron hand and the velvet glove today in their attempts to quell riots, strikes and outright rebellions by their discontented peoples.

The soft approach was on in Romania, where Red leaders, fearful of anti-Communist revolts, ordered additional rations of bread, flour products, potatoes, vegetables, sugar and oil distributed to the public.

The mailed fist still showed in East Germany. East German Justice Minister Max Fechner announced that 50,000 persons have been arrested for rebelling against the regime. Disclosure of the staggering total—first public admission to the extent of the repressive measures taken in the wake of the June 17 riots—came as the government admitted that the spirit of revolt is still alive.

Reds In Control

In an open letter to East zone farmers, Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl conceded that many are still dissatisfied with mere promises.

Escanaba Figure Skaters Spark Marquette Revue, Fourth Of July On Ice

High TB Death Rate For U. P. Meeting Topic

Teaming up against the most costly public health problem, representatives of Northern Peninsula communities will hold a "Roundtable on Tuberculosis" in Hancock.

Conference site will be the new Copper Country state sanatorium, which will act as host for the session with the Houghton County Tuberculosis Society.

Planned in cooperation with the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, the meeting will be leveled at renewing the offensive against tuberculosis, which last year cost Michigan more than $14,500,000 for hospital care alone.

Some Remain Unhospitallized

In part, call for the meeting stems from a new Christmas Seal survey which lists the Northern Peninsula as "Michigan's number two tuberculosis trouble spot." Only Wayne county has a more serious problem, according to report.

James F. Kipper, assistant executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association, is working with northern community leaders on plans for the roundtable.

Persons with known, active tuberculosis remain unhospitallized in Northern Peninsula communities, even though some northern Michigan sanatoriums report "empty beds and vacant wards," according to sponsors of this first Northern Peninsula "Roundtable on Tuberculosis."

High Death Rate

This is one of the serious problems delegates to the session will discuss.

Dr. John W. Towey, medical director of Pineset Sanatorium, Powers, and a board member of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, was today quoted as saying that the conference should be given "top priority."

In the period 1949-51-52, only 14 Michigan counties had tuberculosis death rates averaging more than 20 per hundred thousand. Of these 14 counties, Dr. Towey said 10 were in the Northern Peninsula and only 4 in southern areas.

Nahma

Birthday Party

NAHMA—Mark Peterson, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peterson, was guest of honor at a birthday party held at the Civic Center Thursday afternoon, July 2. A party lunch with a pink and white cake as table centerpiece was served the children after the games. Mark received many gifts as remembrance of the party.

Guests attending were Mrs. Tom Elgeert and daughter, Suzie, and Mrs. George Bathke and daughter, Suzie, both of Escanaba, and Ricky Ritter, Denny and David Beauchamp, Dickie Syverson, Gwendolyn Warner, Peter Moore, Yvonne Gouin, David Anderson, Daryl LaVigne, Mary Beth and Roseann Sargent, Markie and Christine Peterson, Mrs. Albert Mercier Jr., Mrs. Robert Ritter, Mrs. Pat Phalen and Mrs. Julia Eggert.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Atkins of El Centro, Calif., are visiting at the Shirley Warner home here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sargent and son of Lansing are spending a week at the Nick Denness home on the Isabella road.

Guests at the John Turek home during the Fourth of July weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Segerstrom and children of Valparaiso, Ind. and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Turek and Beatrice Turek of Royal Oak.

Mrs. Ivan Hogen of Saginaw is spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sheedlo. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Menary and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Menary of Chicago spent the holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Menary.

Roland Bramer left Wednesday for Milwaukee to spend the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wolff.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rieck of Kohler, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. Van Calligan and daughter, Janet, of Sheboygan were guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeRosier.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bennette of Anderson, Ind., spent the weekend at their home here and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Paul at Masonville.

The occasion was a special benefit for the Marquette hospital fund sponsored by the Marquette Elks Lodge. Performances were given Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday night. The show was directed by Mrs. Jeannette LeCaptain, of Escanaba, who was supervised seven of Escanaba's successful shows.

Fifty of the cast of 70 skaters were youthful veterans of Escanaba's annual Ice Varieties, which has been publicized nationally as the "biggest small town ice show in the world." Properties and scenery were Escanaba products from previous shows in the Delta city.

Featured Performers

The Marquette Palestra's beautiful artificial ice rink made an ideal setting for the "Fourth of July on Ice" program here. Escanabans had practiced for six weeks without skates for the intricate group numbers and had rehearsed on ice three times last week.

Despite the handicap of lack of practice on ice and the complications of transporting the cast and properties to Marquette, the performances were almost flawless.

Other communities in the Upper Peninsula were well represented in the show. Miss Karen Olson, of Marquette, was the featured skater, appearing in two solo numbers, and other featured skaters were the professionals, Miss Carolyn Johnson and Robert Schwalbach, of Escanaba; Miss Mary Goodreau and Billy Goodreau, of Escanaba; Miss Bonnie Joe McSwain, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Miss Teresa Choquette, of Negaunee.

Featured "doubles" were Karen and John Moore, of Escanaba, and Mrs. LeCaptain and George Bureau, the latter of Marquette.

Group Numbers

John Derouin, Cleve and John Moore and Jim Bushy, all of Escanaba, put on the comedy number.

Group numbers, all of which were well received, were the Jail Break, Tulip Time, Jungle Rhythm, Island Paradise, Ice College, Toyland and the finale, Watching the Trains Go By. Escanaba skaters comprised the personnel in all group numbers.

In addition to Mrs. LeCaptain and Mr. Bureau, who was general chairman, others serving the summer ice show were Dan Weisner, of Escanaba, in charge of properties, and Mrs. Lillian LaFave Huesener, of Escanaba, organizer.

Watch For Pitfalls When Writing Will

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ever think of writing your will?

The chances are you have. Also, warns University of Michigan law professor Lewis M. Simes, the chances are you are not aware of the pitfalls.

For example, consider the status of the wife. "A husband has no rights at all regarding his wife's property," says Simes, but she may take a substantial share of her husband's estate, even if the will states that she is not to do so.

Mention All Names

The problems resulting in this state can be many, he says. Therefore, it is best to make a complete listing of all who are to share in the estate and the amounts they are to receive.

Prof. Simes points out that the same theory applies to children, as well. A will should mention all children of the deceased even if they are not to share in the property. Otherwise, they may be able to break the will and receive an equal share.

Prof. Simes also warns of problems arising from gifts to charitable organizations, making carbon copies, securing witnesses and using printed will forms.

Failure to use the full legal name of the group for which gifts are earmarked often gives rise to confusion resulting from two organizations having the same general title.

Sign Only One

The making of carbon copies is an acceptable practice, according to Simes, but people sometimes sign both copies and have them witnessed.

"This results in two wills," he says. "Have the copy made but keep it unsigned."

He also cautions the will-maker to pick his witnesses carefully so that they may be located easily in later years if proof of signatures is needed.

The use of printed forms for drawing up wills is not favored by Simes.

"Each will is an individual matter," he points out. "Lawyers sometimes use such forms when they draw up statements, but each is later modified to fit the situation."

Swimming Lesson Schedule Changed

During haying season, swimming lessons for Powers-Spalding children, will be given in the morning instead of the regular scheduled baseball program.

Building Booms

LANSING (AP)—Mild weather during the first quarter of the year helped a boom in urban building construction in Michigan. The Michigan Department of Labor said the value of urban building construction authorized in Michigan during the first three months of 1953 was $126,032,000, an increase of 56.6 per cent over last year.

T. Amundsen, Jeweler, Dies

Theodore Amundsen, for many years associated with the local jewelry firm, Amundsen & Pearson, died Sunday morning at the Marinette General Hospital following a long illness.

Mr. Amundsen was born in Norway on April 7, 1874 and came to this country 64 years ago. For two years after arriving in this country he was employed in Chicago, where he learned the watchmaker's trade. Two years later he worked in Menominee at the Christopher Jewelry store and then for eight years was associated with his brother Lewis in a jewelry store at Marinette.

Coming to Escanaba 40 years ago he became a member of the Amundsen & Pearson jewelry firm and retained his interest in the company until four years ago when he retired because of ill health. Upon his retirement he and his family moved to Marinette where he resided at 1737 Stephenson avenue up to the time of his death.

Surviving him are his wife, Carrie, and son, Paul, Detroit.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the Hansen & Olson Funeral Home at Marquette, with the Rev. Clifford Ruby, Presbyterian pastor, in charge of the services. Burial will be in Forest Home Cemetery at Marinette.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home from Tuesday noon until the time of the rites.

Rose Chafers Garden Plague

The rose chaffer, a pestiferous bug that has attacked the strawberry and raspberry crop in Soo Hill the past four years, is again in Soo Hill in force and is operating over a wider area than before, Joseph L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, said today.

"This year we're finding it around Bay View and Danforth areas as well as Soo Hill," Heirman declared. Each year, he said, the bug has spread out a little farther from the original spot.

The bugs will be present another couple of weeks, Heirman said. Then their life span will end and they will disappear until next year.

He said his office has had four or five calls every day for the past two weeks, inquiring about the insects. Many think they are Japanese beetles, he said.

Attacks Berry Plants

The rose chaffer, according to Heirman, attacks many different kinds of plants.

"It just seems to go after certain kinds of vegetation such as raspberries, strawberries, flowers, and certain garden vegetables," he said. So far, the pest has been particularly harmful to strawberries and raspberries here, the county agent stated.

The bugs are very, very numerous, he said.

Heirman said when the rose chaffer was first noticed here, he had an entomologist from Michigan State College come here to investigate.

The entomologist said it was pretty hard to see where the bugs originated, Heirman said. However, the expert explained, sandy soil is an ideal breeding ground for the rose chaffer, and Heirman said, "of course we have that condition up around Soo Hill."

Heirman recommended either of two chemicals to fight the destroyer. An ounce of 60 percent wettable DDT powder per three gallons of water can be sprayed on plants, he said.

Rotenone Dust

"Of course," the county agricultural agent warned, "that can only be used on things that are not going to be eaten, because DDT is a poison (to humans) and the residue remains on the plant for several days."

Another poison, rotenone, is not poisonous to human beings but destroys insects. It can be used where parts of the plant are going to be edible within a few days.

Rotenone comes as dust and can be dusted on the plants just as it comes from the manufacturer, he said. It need not be mixed with anything.

Poisons are no long-range solution to the rose chaffer, he said. "All the poisoning you can do will never end them," he said. "We can only hope that some parasite will do away with them, or that weather conditions develop that will break their life cycle."

City Council Backed Into Its New Policy On Appointments

THE City Council last week made a sharp reversal of policy in adopting a resolution that the Council will not appoint any person to succeed himself to any of the various city boards or commissions.

In the past it was the general policy of the Council to reappoint members to boards and commissions except in unusual cases or when the member did not desire reappointment.

The new policy has both good points and bad points. On the whole, we believe that the new policy is in the best interests of the city. It will encourage more people to become acquainted with city problems and to take a more active interest in civic affairs.

The weakness in the new plan is that it will deprive the city of the services of some of the men and women who have gained particular knowledge of city agencies on which they have served. The city will lose the advantage of experience.

This loss may be balanced, however, by the infusion of new ideas from new appointees to the city boards and commissions. Also, the Council is not closing the door to those whose special talents and interests are desired in public service. These people can be appointed to other city agencies when openings are available and they can also be appointed to the boards on which they have previously served when new vacancies arise.

In other words, while they cannot be named to succeed themselves under the new policy established by the Council, they can be named to these boards to fill subsequent vacancies.

The policy, as outlined by the City Council at its meeting last week, has the weight of force only for the tenure of the present Council. The policy will be subject to revision when a new Council is organized after next year's municipal election.

It is, of course, unfortunate the Council did not adopt the new policy strictly on its own merits but rather backed into it as a face-saving measure in rejecting the reappointment of F. W. Schmitt as a member of the Civil Service Commission.

The new policy has merit but the manner in which it was adopted is less meritorious. It has the appearance of putting the cart before the horse.

Taft's Foreign Aid Proposals Make Sense

SENATOR TAFT, sitting on the sidelines in illness, still is exercising his influence in Congress for moderation and common sense. His newest proposals for the foreign aid bill are in that vein.

The House has passed an authorization measure that would arbitrarily withhold from Western Europe $1 billion in military aid until the six nations signatory to the European defense pact all ratify it. Only Western Germany thus far done that.

Taft, understanding that foreign policy cannot be wielded like a club, proposed that President Eisenhower be given discretionary power to withhold funds until EDC is a reality. His evident expectation is that the President would choose not to withhold the money.

"I don't think we should make this a compulsory thing," the senator said.

If his voice carries the weight it always has, then perhaps the Senate will strike from the House bill the "do-it-or-else" provision, which many foreign affairs experts believe is most unlikely to accomplish its goal, anyway.

Both Taft and Knowland have declared they will support the Senate's $5,318,000,000 foreign aid authorization—a figure $320,000,000 higher than the House bill and within $200,000,000 of Mr. Eisenhower's recommendation.

This important measure will be watched to see whether these two key senators are able to take the bulk of their GOP colleagues along in backing it, or whether decisive support will have to come from the Democrats.

In the House, Republicans voted 119 to 81 for a minimum bill, while Democrats voted 160 to 21 for the aid proposals. This hardly classifies as thumping GOP support for an administration program.

Questions and Answers

Q—How did federal grants-in-aid to the states begin?

A—The system began in 1785 when Congress granted land to the states to promote public education. More recently, monetary grants for various purposes—including old age assistance, school lunches, and highway construction—have assumed greater importance than land grants.

Q—Does Congress plan any action on its study of the World War II massacre of Polish officers in the Katyn Forest in Russia?

A—A resolution calling upon the United Nations to act on the findings of a Congressional investigation was shelved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee June 17. A Congressional committee during the 82nd Congress blamed Russia for the mass murder of nearly 5,000 Polish officers. The Russians blame the Germans.

Irradiation Treatments Best To Remove Plantar Warts

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A fairly common and most troublesome condition involving the sole of the foot is the subject of today's first inquiry.

Q—What can you say about plantar warts. Are they contagious? Mrs. A. A. A—The exact cause of plantar warts is poorly understood. They are not contagious, apparently, even though they may be caused by a virus.

Treatment usually is necessary, but is difficult since these warts, probably because of the constant pressure on them, are harder to cure than warts in almost any other location.

On the whole, probably the most effective treatment is to use irradiation, either with X-rays or radium, though such treatment must be given with the greatest care. Surgery has sometimes been used with success.

Q—Please discuss so-called Trichomonas infections and what can be done for them.

A—The cause of Trichomonas infections is a tiny animal parasite which afflicts particularly the lower genital tract of women and is also found in the bladder and other genital parts of men.

It thrives in acid secretions, and the various treatments which are used to try to kill the parasite also often include attempts to change the acid secretion to one in which the parasite grows less well.

The exact technical aspects of the treatment must be left to the physician in charge, but regardless of what is used, it requires the complete cooperation of the patient for a long period of time.

Q—My 28-month-old girl pulls her hair out. The hair grows back in but she goes all over the head again and starts doing it again. Is there a cure or something I can do? Mrs. W. T. F.

A—This sounds like a habit which the child will, in all probability, outgrow. It is a peculiar nervous reaction of some kind and probably about all you can do is keep the child as calm as possible and not pay too much attention to this activity. If she can be interested in other things, she may give up her hair-pulling.

Q—If a person dies with cancer and it is unknown at the time, would it be contracted by another sleeping on the same mattress? Reader.

A—No.

Q—Would drinking one quart of milk daily cause constipation in an adult? I. B. C.

A—Milk contains little bulk, but would not of itself cause constipation.

Q—Is it possible for a person to survive after an operation for brain tumor? Mrs. E. S.

A—Yes, indeed. This happens with increasing frequency, thanks to the excellent methods of surgery on the brain devised by our neurosurgeons.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retiring chief of staff of the Air Force, took a rear elevator up to room 676 of the Mayflower Hotel the other day and dropped in for a quiet chat with his old boss Harry Truman.

Though one is a Republican and the other a Democrat, the two talked, believe it or not, about politics—specifically about the possibility of Vandenberg's running for the Senate from Michigan against GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson. Truman was eager to have him run.

"I've been a Republican all my life," said General Vandenberg, "but when I see what this administration has done to the Air Force, it almost makes me a Democrat."

Truman, who fought for a big military budget, didn't have to express agreement. He has said both privately and publicly that Eisenhower cuts in the Air Force are one of the worst tragedies affecting the security of the nation. On the political front, he told Vandenberg that he would undertake to sound out the governor of Michigan, up-and-coming young "Soapy" Williams, a Democrat, to see whether he would stay out of the Michigan race if Vandenberg ran.

Upon further talks will depend whether, first Vandenberg runs in the primary as a Republican against Senator Homer Ferguson, also a Republican, and whether he runs as a Democrat in the final election. The ultimate decision will partly depend on Governor Williams. Popular in Michigan, he would be a hard man to beat.

DEMOCRATIC MIRTH

A group of Democratic senators were dissecting the Eisenhower administration recently in the Senate cloakroom.

"What has happened to Eisenhower's initiative on foreign policy?" asked Tennessee's freshman Sen. Albert Gore.

"Syngram Rhee has it," suggested Oklahoma's Sen. Mike Monroney.

"No," some else blurted, "the Communists have it."

"You're both wrong," broke in Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. "Rhee and the Communists are razzin' over it."

"Anyhow, Eisenhower doesn't have it," agreed Alabama's Sen. John Sparkman.

NIAGARA FALLS POWER

An embattled group of congressmen, led by Robert Jones of Alabama and Tom Steel of Oklahoma, will file a vigorous protest this week against what they call a "billion-dollar giveaway" of Niagara Falls power rights by the House Public Works Committee.

Chairman George Dondero of Michigan quietly put a bill through the committee last week giving five private power companies exclusive rights to build and operate hydroelectric plants at Niagara, the nation's mightiest waterfall.

The legislation, written by GOP Congressman William E. Miller of Lockport, N. Y., hands the publicly owned waters of Niagara over to the following companies: Niagara, Mohawk Power Corporation; New York State Electric and Gas Corporation; Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation; Consolidated Edison of New York City; and Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company.

Congressman Dondero was so anxious to ram the bill through a super-secret session of the house public works committee that he did not permit debate, or even reading the bill before the vote.

He did this over the protests of Democrats Jones of Alabama and Watts of Kentucky, both of whom contended the committee should have more time to study the Miller bill, as well as two other bills. One of these, the Lehman-Roosevelt bill, provides for federal development of Niagara River, and the other, the Becker bill, provides for development of the river by the power authority of the State of New York.

STEAM-ROLLER DONDERO

However, Dondero insisted on an immediate vote.

"Aren't you even going to read the Miller bill section by section so we can discuss it?" requested Alabama's Jones.

"It isn't necessary," replied Dondero. "Everybody knows how he is going to vote on the bill and what it provides for."

Dondero also brushed aside questions by Watts as to whether there might be "legal complications" over "possible encroachment by the Miller bill on the sovereign rights of New York State."

Finally, Tom Steel of Oklahoma demanded:

"Before we vote, I think we're at least entitled to know how Eisenhower feels about this legislation."

Steel looked around the committee table, but Dondero and the others were unable to answer his question.

"We'll think we ought to get that clarified," said Steel. "Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens and the Army engineers are for the Miller bill, but Eisenhower assured Governor Tom Dewey, according to the press, that he was for authorizing the New York Power Authority to redevelop the Niagara."

Missouri Congresswoman Declares War On Dirty Food

By PATTI SIMMONS

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A bottle cap in a creamery strainer and a former housewife in Congress don't mix. So the housewife is trying to do something about that dirty strainer, plus other abuses and loopholes in the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Leonora Sullivan (D., Mo.) is convinced that when her fellow housewives around the nation learn what she knows about the food situation, they'll help her make her bill law. The Sullivan measure would permit Food and Drug Administration inspectors to enter any food production plant and look around. Under the present law, they can do so only when the proprietor agrees.

Mrs. Sullivan feels that the change is necessary.

"Imagine oyster-waterers opening their arms to government inspectors," she says. She thinks it will come as a surprise to many housewives to know how such crooks operate. "They soak oysters in water until they absorb up to 50 per cent more than their normal water content," she says.

In one case, under the present law, two packers were charged with 12 counts of watering oysters. The defense attorney reminded the judge that the packers hadn't authorized the inspection. The judge instructed the jury to disregard evidence obtained during the plant inspection.

The jury's verdict, despite the fact that the packers had pocketed an illegal $26,000 at the expense of the American housewife, was not guilty.

"The consumer," insists Mrs. Sullivan, "has swallowed the idea that everything he buys in this country is automatically clean and pure." But that just isn't so, she says, and FDA inspectors have found example after example of unclean, impure food on sale in retail stores.

Here are some flagrant instances:

One 15-ounce can of peas disclosed 28 insects per serving. You wouldn't be able to see them, though; they were in the peas.

A slab of decomposed cheese, housing a rodent's nest.

A creamery strainer, which was found to contain a bottle cap, a piece of potato, a spring, several hunks of charcoal and other debris.

Chickens contaminated with fecal material and chickens that had died other than by slaughter — both in the same Delaware poultry establishment.

Butter containing mites and manure.

Butter containing cow hair.

Catsup made from rotten tomatoes.

Ice cream and jam made from spoiled strawberries.

"Pink Wheat," contaminated with a poisonous mercury compound, was mixed with good wheat and shipped for food use.

Mrs. Sullivan isn't alone in her fight. Two colleagues, Rep. Charles Wolverton (R., N. J.) and Rep. Aime Fogarty (D., R. I.), have proposed similar bills. And George P. Larrick, deputy commissioner of the FDA, thinks the situation needs fast action.

Mrs. Sullivan cites another case as a horrible example—U. S. vs. Ira D. Cardiff. Apples shipped by the Cardiff firm were suspected of containing dangerous amounts of insect spray. When FDA inspectors were refused entry to the apple plant, the government prosecuted anyway. Cardiff was fined $300 by a U. S. District Court.

GUARDING AGAINST CONTAMINATION: Crab meat which Rep. Leonora Sullivan examines at FDA laboratories has just been tested by bacteriologist R. L. Shelton, Jr., for contamination, a test made because it was touched by human hands in packing.

"But the verdict," Mrs. Sullivan says, "was set aside by a U. S. Court of Appeals. The government then carted the case to the Supreme Court—which ruled in favor of the manufacturer."

She explains her bill would permit inspectors to go into a plant "after first exhibiting appropriate credentials." The law now on the books says "after making request and obtaining permission of the owner, operator or custodian."

Eighty per cent of FDA court cases are based on evidence obtained through factory inspection. Most of these violations could have been detected only by such inspection.

Commissioner Charles W. Crawford of the FDA admits he is apprehensive that if inspection authority cannot be promptly restored, much of the progress in ensuring sanitary food made during the 14 years since the law was enacted will be lost.

Larrick points out that the great bulk of the food trade is honest and ethical. But there are dangerous exceptions.

Every week, the FDA seizes 164 tons of contaminated food.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

NATURE'S REMEDY—While chatting with Chapman "Chap" Smith in City Hall the other day he asked a question that only E. J. "Jack" Eden of Escanaba can answer.

You may recall that Eden suggested using a certain plant as a remedy for poison ivy poisoning, and described the plant in detail. It was an old Indian cure, he said, and had proved efficacious in clearing up a case of poison ivy he had contracted.

"Eden's description of the plant sounds like he was referring to Jewelweed," Smith told me. "I know where there are large patches of it around Escanaba."

But "Chap" Smith's question was this: How is the Jewelweed to be administered? Do you rub it on, use it as a poultice, or make tea of the stems and flowers and drink it?

MEDICINE MEN—The day of the Indian medicine man has long since passed, the traveling medicine show is no more, but many folks still believe that an infusion of dock with a sprinkling of fennel is a sure cure for what ails the liver.

Some of the patent medicines still use names harking back to the days when the Indians were presumed to have a corner on healing. The bitters and teas and emulsions continue to go merrily into bottles and then over the counter to those who prefer them to a doctor's prescription.

Just how much the Old Indians (they were always old) knew about the healing properties of certain plants is problematical. It is a matter of recorded history that when white doctors and medicines became known to the Indian they clamored for them.

HOME REMEDIES—As late as a half-century ago many Americans still indulged in home remedies, cooking up redolent messes for the ailing members of the family.

There was Everlasting tea for "consumption", infusions of celery leaves for the "nerves", onion poultices for "congestion", syrup of rhubarb for the "cramps", and any number of "tonics" compounded from herbs—with a liberal addition of wine.

In fact the home remedies of an earlier day leaned heavily upon the Demon Rum for their potency. Whisky, wine, rum and other spirituous liquors provided the wallop.

Maiden ladies inclined to the vapors" could always be brought around with a stiff jolt of this fortified tonic. The pleasant glow, of course, was induced by the wild cherries or the dandelions—not by the alcohol.

Children were sent off to somewhat be-sotted slumber with a draft of soothing syrup compounded of one ounce of horehound and a liberal slug of whisky. The good old remedies were good for old or young, man or beast.

THEY'RE STILL DRUGS—The history of medicine reveals that men have been dabbling with healing plants since the most primitive times. Sometimes these early "doctors" mixed magic and religion with their medicine.

Then through the centuries man learned that it was the plant (or the drug it contained) and not the witchery that brought the desired results.

The medical value of many plants first mentioned thousands of years ago is still recognized.

For example, digitalis, first used as a heart medicine long before doctors knew why it was efficient, is still used today. Ephedrine, a common drug used in treating asthma and hayfever, is found in a plant which has been used by Chinese doctors for many hundred of years.

IGNORANCE WAS BLISS—The newer drugs are synthetics that come out of the chemist's test tube in the laboratory.

There are many kinds of modern drugs, of course, but medical science still finds much use for those derived from plants—morphine, digitalis, quinine to name a few. And the penicillins are derived from vegetable molds.

Receiving a shot of penicillin, however, is not half so satisfying as one of the earlier home remedies incorporating a liberal dram of whisky. The penicillin cured, while the home remedy kept the patient lingering in bed, the willing recipient of additional dosages.

UNCLE EF

People probably learned a lot of law following all the recent Rosenberg appeals, but they couldn't escape learning that being a spy and giving away atom secrets is ultimately a sure way to shorten your life, says Arch Nearbrite.

Cammarata Loses Fight To Stay Out Of Michigan Prison

JACKSON (AP)—Frank Cammarata, Warren, O., hoodlum and Michigan parole violator, has lost his seven year battle to remain out of prison.

Cammarata, accompanied by state police and Michigan's assistant Attorney General Perry Maynard, returned to Southern Michigan Prison to complete a 15-20 year term for bank robbery.

Michigan authorities picked up Cammarata at Warren, O., early today following the receipt by Trumbull County officials of an extradition order from Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche.

Cammarata had been held in the Cuyahoga County jail in Cleveland, since his arrest by immigration authorities last June 13. He was scheduled for deportation, but immigration authorities said they would recognize Michigan's claim on him.

Paroled in 1936 from the bank robbery term by Michigan authorities, Cammarata was deported but returned to the United States illegally in 1939. He was apprehended

Miners Must Pay Tax On Their Pensions And Welfare Fund Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue reportedly has ruled that the United Mine Workers must pay taxes on the income from its 90 million dollar welfare fund and that retired miners must pay taxes on their pensions.

Informed persons said today the decision presumably means that 60,000 retired pensioners of John L. Lewis' union will be billed for taxes from the start of their pensions—in some cases back to 1948.

The fund has paid out over 500 million dollars. Individual pensions are $100 a month. Tax bills would vary according to what other income the pensioner had but individuals could be liable for hundreds, or even thousands, of dollars.

The fund is supported by a 40-

Use Forced Air To Dry Grain, Is Tip

Farmers with a lot of headaches around harvest time might save themselves some trouble if they would start thinking about forced air grain drying . . . and do something about it now.

This is the word given by J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent who points out that farmers can cure a lot of their grain moisture problems with dryers, and with a minimum of cost too.

Heirman said that farmers are faced with the problem every summer of when to harvest grain. If it is harvested too early it will have a high moisture content and will not bring good prices. If harvested too late the grain will shatter or go down in the field.

With grain dryers, Heirman said, farmers can harvest grain plenty early and reduce moisture content mechanically for good market prices.

"To invest in a grain dryer a farmer must have bins that are in good condition, put out an initial investment for equipment and adjust his harvest season to use the dryer to best advantage," Heir-man said. Equipment for a dryer includes a storage bin with air ducts, a fan and a power unit. Many grain bins can be remodeled into a suitable dryer system.

The income from invested funds was reported as close to $769,000 in the last year.

Wheat, barley, oats, ear corn and shelled corn can all be dried successfully with forced air.

Further information may be obtained by writing to J. L. Heirman county agricultural agent, Postoffice Building, Escanaba.

Four Are Fined On Firecracker Charges Here

Celebrating the Fourth of July with firecrackers brought fines to four men arraigned this morning before Judge Henry Ranguette.

Stiffest fine was paid by Thomas Quinn, 18, of Sault Ste. Marie, who was assessed a fine of $25 plus court costs of $8.25 for setting off firecrackers in parking meters here. Quinn also has been ordered to make restitution for any damage which may have occurred to the meters.

A companion of Quinn, who is 16, also was questioned here in connection with putting firecrackers in three of the new city parking meters. No fine was set for him because he is under age.

Clarence Froelich, 39, of Rte. 1, Wilson, was fined $10 and costs of $8.25 for shooting firecrackers from a car, and his companion Raymond H. Routheau, 28, of Rte. 1, Wilson, paid a fine of $10 and $8.25 costs on a charge of having firecrackers in his possession in a car.

Also arraigned this morning was Lawrence Mayrand, 17, of Rte. 2, Bark River, who pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting firecrackers. His fine also was $10 and court costs were $8.25.

The four youths were apprehended by an Escanaba police officer who was off duty July 5, and the others were arrested July 4.

Gun In Car Brings Fine To Escanaban

Louis Viati, 30, of Escanaba, Rte. 1, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $9.35 this morning after pleading guilty to a charge of having a rifle in his car.

Viati, who was charged with possessing and transporting a .32 Winchester rifle which was not taken down and not enclosed in a case, was arraigned before Judge Henry Ranguette.

He was arrested July 5 in Nahma township by Conservation Officer J. R. Walker.

Sen. Aiken Sees Little Change In Farm Price Laws

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) predicted today that the Republicans will face the voters next year with a farm price support program about like that now on the statute books.

The present price support law expires next year. Aiken, chairman of the senate Agriculture Committee, said:

"I don't think there will be too much change in existing legislation. There probably will be an effort to place permanent price supports on the books, but I think Congress will want to keep its finger on that situation."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said the present price support system is inadequate and that a better one must be found, but he has not yet made specific recommendations.

Oil Companies Race To Develop New Fuels

By WALTER BREEDE JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Oil companies are in a red hot race to develop new gasoline and lubricants that will meet the requirements of today's super-powered high compression automobile engines.

Formation of carbon deposits in cylinder combustion chambers is being attacked by the industry on three principal fronts.

Carbon formation is responsible for a wide variety of engine ills familiar to garage mechanics. Symptoms include ping and knocking, power loss and increased fuel consumption. Sometimes the super-heated carbon deposits sparkle and glow, making the gas-air mixture in the cylinder explode at the wrong time—a difficulty

William E. Miron and Deputy Cully Johnson and Lloyd Hulett, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard light station at Escanaba came to the rescue. Hulett brought the men in by boat.

The men were in the water about 45 minutes. Gerald was so exhausted from fighting the waves and clinging to the capsized boat that he was carried to a cabin and put to bed. Both men were fully recovered a few hours after the accident.

Swimmer Tires
A 60-year-old Escanaba man who tired while swimming from the beach at Ludington Park also was saved from drowning over the weekend.

He is Carl Larson, 60, of 1027 Washington Ave.

Larson, lifeguards report, was swimming to the raft and became tired when within 25 to 30 feet of it. His son, Glenn Larson, held him up in the water and summoned help.

Lifeguards James Heiden and Paul Baldwin took the near-victim ashore and Heiden applied artificial respiration for a few minutes.

After the man was revived, he was taken to his home by car, and treated by an Escanaba physician. His condition is reported good.

Big Forest Fire Roars Unchecked In S. California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's worst forest fire in 11 years roared unchecked on several fronts today after consuming more than 40,000 acres of timber and brush in Angeles National Forest in the rugged San Gabriel Mountains.

Foresters held little hope of controlling the flames—which also have destroyed eight dwellings—before Wednesday. The fire started last Thursday and has fanned out over a 48-mile front in sometimes precipitous and often inaccessible terrain.

New Red Probe In Michigan Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new investigation of Communist activities in Michigan will get underway in Detroit Oct. 26 and probably will run for a week.

It will be conducted by the House Un-American Activities Committee and will be headed by Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich), a committee member.

Clardy announced today the investigation will cover the fields of education and labor "and anywhere else Communists are active."

"The committee," he said, "intends to paint a broad picture to show the people of Michigan just how wide and deep and effective the Communist Party's work really is."

Clardy said the Detroit hearings will be available to radio and television outlets, adding:

"There will be no interference with publicity and no blackouts such as happened last time when the House speaker banned radio, television and motion pictures."

"I feel the public should know about the Communists and see how the committee operates so people will know that we are not witting."

was injured in the accident, police report, but both autos were considerably damaged when they sideswiped. Each of the drivers claimed the other was over the centerline. Police are investigating.

hunters as we sometimes are made out."

The committee's last appearance in Detroit was in 1952, when hundreds of persons were identified as Communists or Communist sympathizers by committee witnesses.

"There still are a great many points in Michigan which were not gone into previously," Clardy said. "We expect to name people prominent in the Communist movement who have not been mentioned before."

"The purpose this time is to give the public a good look at the whole Communist situation."

Pastor Asks That Michigan Gambling Laws Be Clarified

PONTIAC (AP)—The Rev. Father Louis A. Prohaska, pastor of White Lake township's St. Patrick Catholic Church, today called for "clarification" of state gambling laws after sheriff's deputies closed part of the church's festival Saturday.

"Horse racing is permitted because it provides revenue for the state but the end doesn't justify the means," Father Prohaska said. "I've always thought the laws were intended to eliminate professional racketeers."

Oakland County sheriff's deputies closed nine gaming concessions. "All we had left were pony rides for children, a magic show and refreshment stands," the pastor said.

Escaped POWs Ready To Return

SEOUL (AP)—Many of the 27,000 anti-Communist North Korea prisoners who escaped from Allied stockades would gladly return now if assured there would be no reprisals, an official source said.

Others reportedly would return to prison only on direct orders from President Syngman Rhee.

A spokesman who cannot be named said the prisoners who were promised food, clothing and help by the South Korean government are finding it hard to live and work in the wrecked South Korean economy.

Some have been enlisted in the ROK Army and thousands appear to be headed for Army duty, even against their will.

Flag-decorated trucks carried several hundred anti-Communist former war prisoners to the South Korean Army replacement depot for the third straight day.

The Defense Ministry refused to make any statement concerning the former prisoners and the total number that have gone into the Army was not revealed.

David Haapio Is Enjoying Vacation Visit In Finland

ROCK—David Haapio is having a wonderful time visiting his native Finland according to letters received by his daughter, Mrs. Sulo Peltola.

He has been enjoying a lot of fishing, especially catching "lahne", a fish he has not seen since coming to this country 40 years ago.

Another reminder of his boyhood is the bird called "kaki", similar to the cuckoo, which still sounds familiar after all these years.

Mr. Haapio has been visiting over three weeks, leaving Duluth June 7 by plane and arriving in Finland June 9, three hours late on account of bad weather conditions on the way over.

At the present he is staying with his sister, Amanda Saalasti in Suomeniemi, Finland. He has two more months left of his vacation.

Arriving by chartered bus, the United Nations Pilgrimage For Youth, under the sponsorship of the International Order of Odd Fellows, consists of 31 high school sophomores and juniors from Idaho, Alberta, Montana, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, North Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska who were chosen to make the trip by virtue of their community activities, scholastic standing and church support.

They were chosen on the basis of competitive essays and speeches on civic problems. No figures are available as to how many applied for the trip, but one Idaho high school had 120 candidates for one berth on the bus.

California Passes Two Freedom Of Information Bills

Two Freedom of Information bills have passed the California legislature and are awaiting only the signature of Governor Warren to become law, the American Newspaper Publishers Association informed the Escanaba Daily Press today.

One bill prohibits closed meetings of local governmental bodies and specifically requires that newspapers requesting it be given a 24-hour notice of any special meeting ordered.

The second bill permits inspection of public records by any citizen of the state, the ANPA reports.

Both bills carry similar statements of legislative policy, as follows:

"In enacting this chapter, the Legislature finds and declares that the public commissions, boards and councils in this State exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of the law that their actions be taken openly even to old timers.

The river spread to four times its normal width at Fifth avenue and swirled around houses on the river's edge. City workmen labored late, removing side-boards from the Fifth avenue span to let the river water flow through unimpeded.

Don't Fight Heat; Ride Along With It

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—If a heat wave is coming your way, don't get nervous. You should treat it like an ocean wave: Ride with it, don't fight it.

Housewives know best how to deal with heat waves. They pull down the shades, peel off most of their clothes, and lie down until better weather comes along.

Imitate the Girls
But how can a mere male outwit a heat wave? Well, here are a few tested recipes:

1. Imitate the girls. Strip down until all you have on is the least the law allows in public. If ten men in every city had the courage to wear shorts to work, soon every man in America who wasn't knock-kneed would follow suit.

2. Clean out your pockets. This will cut the average guy's weight down five pounds. All you really need to carry in summer is your keys, your busfare and your social identification card. Remember, every extra ounce you pack heats up your blood.

3. If you don't wear a collar, you can't get hot under it.

4. If you work in a high class place where you have to wear a jacket, strap an ice bag under each arm pit. This will do wonders for you, and you can get ice cube refills from the nearest drug-store. You'd be amazed to know how many men of distinction wear ice bags under their armpits these days.

5. When you come home, take off your shoes and shirt and stretch out on the sofa and ask your wife to fan you. How do you know she won't do it? Wives are always surprising husbands—one way or another.

Arguments Are Out
6. Don't argue with your wife under any circumstances, not even if she hogs the electric fan. Hot tempers make the blood boil.

7. If you are watching television and a beer commercial flashes on, don't run to the kitchen to get yourself a can of brew. Walk slowly.

8. If the heat does become unbearable, follow the example of the dog. The dog cools himself by sticking out his tongue and panting, but the process isn't patented. Stick out your own tongue as far as you can, and pant hard and rapidly 100 times.

If you feel a chill coming on, stop after 50 pants. You don't want to have to fight a summer cold.

If the boss sees you panting, he is pretty certain to let you take the rest of the day off.

Then you can beat the heat at the ball game.

Doyle To Vote On New Millage

Funds raised by a special millage proposal to be submitted to Doyle township voters July 13 will be reserved for a future school building program, it was announced Friday by Mrs. Harold Dixner, Gulliver, president of the Doyle Township Board of Education.

Electorators will pass on a proposal to levy an additional five mills over a five-year period for the proposed building fund. It is estimated that the increased millage will produce approximately $2,500 annually for a total of $12,500 at the end of the period.

While this amount will not be enough to defray the cost of the proposed program, the school board is hopeful of receiving supplemental funds, Mrs. Dixner said.

The board proposes eventually to construct a one-room addition to Whitelake school, making the building large enough to serve the township's entire student population through the eighth grade. The school, erected in 1935, now has two regular classrooms and a third basement room which has been used for classes.

Enlargement of the Whitelake building also is proposed as an economy measure because it would enable the board to close two other one-room schools in the district, the Gulliver and the Woods.

The board already has taken action to close the two one-room schools next year and transport the grade children to the Whitelake building. To provide adequate facilities to handle the additional children at Whitelake, however, the district will transport seventh and eighth grade students this year to Manistique.

Plans for the proposed addition have not been drafted but they will be drawn when it appears that the district is going to have the necessary funds, Mrs. Dixner said.

Aged Gulliver Woman Honored

Mrs. Susan Brearley, pioneer resident of Gulliver, who left to day for Perry, O., to reside with a step-daughter, Mrs. George Brack, was honored at a farewell party Thursday evening at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, in Gulliver.

A program of songs and games was given at the event, and Mrs. Brearley was presented with a purse of silver in behalf of the group by Mrs. George Brackman. In a brief talk she expressed her appreciation for the gift and the kindness and friendship of her neighbors and fellow church members.

Mrs. Brearley, who was born in November, 1868, in Guelph, Ont., came to the Gulliver area over 60 years ago and taught school for several years before her marriage to the late Matthew Brearley. Her husband passed away about eight years ago.

An active church worker most of her adult life, Mrs. Brearley was instrumental in the organization of the present Gulliver Latter Day Saints church on Nov. 10, 1910. She taught a community Sunday School class prior to that, and after the church was formed she served as its church school supervisor for over 30 years.

Her husband at one time served as pastor of the church, a position now filled by George Brackman.

For the past three winters Mrs. Brearley has lived with the Brackmans but she spent her summers alone at her own cottage near Gulliver Lake. Despite her advanced years—she is 84—she retains good hearing and vision and a keenly alert mind. Her health, however, has failed somewhat, and last winter she was ill for a considerable time.

Veterans Home Loan Provision Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill extending for one year the program of direct home loans to veterans was signed by President Eisenhower Thursday.

The measure authorizes an additional 100 million dollars to carry on the program and also permits the interest rate on the loans to be increased from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

The President yesterday signed into law two bills to keep alive housing and economic programs.

One of the bills extends several housing loan guarantee and insurance programs for a year.

Among other things it gives the President power to order easier terms on moderate priced homes bought with government guaranteed mortgages.

At present the required down payment on a $12,000 house is 20 per cent, but under the law the president could cut that to five per cent, and extend the mortgage repayment time from 25 years to 30 years.

The Story Of Martha Wayne

Chris Welkin, Planeteer

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

It's a little out of season, but one of Escanaba's women's bowling teams recently received checks totalling $72 from the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament held in Detroit. The K. C. Birdseye team pulled down $50 as a team prize and $22 on individual prizes. Members of the team are Lorraine LeGault, captain, Agnes Baribeau, Therese Pepin, Dorothy Peterson, Eileen Van Effen and Freda Whitlow.

For the first time that we know of, the Sault Ste. Marie area will be represented in the district American Legion Junior baseball tournament to be held at Gladstone. The Soo team is made up largely of players from Soo High, the team which last year matched Escanaba's undefeated season in high school competition.

Charles Forsythe, state director of high school athletics, recently clarified the new rulings adopted at the annual spring meeting of the State Association's representative council. Forsythe particularly desired to straighten out new regulations on when a football or basketball team may engage in so-called scrimmage with another school or outside organization.

"Under our new rule, no school may meet another in a scrimmage until after it has played its first, regularly scheduled game," Forsythe said. "Let's consider this year's opening dates for football. In the Upper Peninsula practice may begin on Aug. 10, and first games may be played on Aug. 28. No U. P. school may stage a grid scrimmage game until after Aug. 28."

Forsythe explained the rule was made necessary on several counts—too many schools took advantage of the old "free" scrimmage rule to violate its intent in order to get in some extra games—particularly in basketball. The Association has demanded three weeks of practice before a team can engage in its first football contest, yet schools frequently scrimmage one another after only four or five days of workout. It was found too, Forsythe said, that numerous injuries occurred during such early scrimmages. Administrators complained that during the opening weeks of school football players were being pulled out of class early in order to make a trip for a scrimmage game.

Two Escanaba Teams To Meet In Legion Tourney

For the second straight year the luck of the draw has matched two Escanaba Cloverland Post 82 teams against each other in the opening round of the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tournament to be played this weekend at Escanaba and Gladstone.

Tourney manager Del Nelson announced today that the record number of eight entries makes it necessary to open the tournament a day early with four games to be played in Gladstone and four in Escanaba on Friday, July 10. After the opening day, all games will be played in Gladstone.

Sault Ste. Marie will be entering the tourney for the first time in the 11th district. Soo will open at 9 a. m. Friday against Powers at Escanaba City Diamond. Stephenson and Menominee meet at Gladstone at 9 Friday.

At 11:30, Gladstone will be host to Carney while the Escanaba entries, the Cubs and All Stars, meet on their home diamond.

In second round action the 9 o'clock losers meet at Escanaba at 2 p. m. and the winners play at Gladstone at the same time. The 11:30 winners and losers will also get in a second game at 5 p. m. with both diamonds in use.

The loser's bracket will occupy the morning play in Gladstone on Saturday with the two underated teams meeting in the key game at 2 p. m. In the double elimination tournament it is possible for 15 games to be played in the three-day affair.

Pile-Ups Mark Stock Car Racing Program

Two turnovers, two major pile-ups and numerous near mishaps marked Friday night's stock car racing at the State Fair track.

Highlighting the program was the women's race which ended in a dead heat between Bee Longtine, driving her husband's car and Sally Shiner, driving Car No. 1-B. Shiner led most of the eight-lap, eight-car race and it looked like an easy victory until the final lap when Longtine came fast on the outside to close the wide gap.

There were 11 women drivers registered for the special feature, but cruppers prevented three of them from finding cars to drive. The women's race was well-received by some 873 persons attending the event and are slated for action here again in the near future.

Most costly of the accidents involved cars driven by Joe Gayan, Frank Holowinski and Connie Erickson. It happened in the second heat when Gayan was leading on the east turn. In an effort to cut inside of Gayan, Erickson, driving the favored Car No. 116, spun Gayan's car and they piled up.

Holowinski rammed both cars in a huge pile-up. None of the drivers was seriously hurt. Holowinski's car was badly damaged and unable to race in the remainder of the program.

The second mishap was the result of a turnover by Clem Lundquist in Car No. 10. He was being followed by John Zawada in No. 6 and when Car 10 finished his roll-over Zawada's car smashed into it, the red dapper flag went up and the race stopped. Neither driver was hurt.

Leading money winner was Car 116 driven by Connie Erickson. Gayan of Marquette, Frank Holowinski of Ishpeming, John Pierop of Spalding and Bob Higgins of Marquette followed closely.

First Double Loss For Champs This Year

Senators Beat Yanks Twice

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Bob Porterfield and Johnny Schmitz are the new idols of "I hate the Yankees" clubs from coast to coast. And Jerry Snyder must be at least an honorary vice president.

The trio of ex-Yanks, traded out of the New York organization during the regime of Manager Casey Stengel, teamed up to help Washington sweep a double-header from the Yanks Sunday, 4-0 and 5-4. It was the Yanks' first double loss of the year.

Porterfield, shunted to Washington in the Bob Kuzava deal in 1951, shut out New York with five hits and allowed only one man to reach second base in the opener. Schmitz, cut loose this spring, mopped up with a fine relief job in the second game. Snyder, who toiled on the Yankee farms until he was tossed into the Jackie Jensen-ly Noren swap last spring, came through with three hits, drove in two runs and scored another in the 12-hit attack on Kuzava.

Both Teams Gain
Chicago and Cleveland both gained a full game on the Yanks by splitting two at Cleveland. Southpaw Billy Pierce blanked the Indians, 4-0, on five hits to keep the White Sox in second place after Cleveland came from behind to beat reliever Harry Dorish in the opener, 7-6.

Boston scored eight in the first inning to give Mel Parnell a 10-2 romp over Philadelphia. Detroit, for the first time all season, took both ends of a double from St. Louis, 10-7 and 7-1. It also was the first time the Tigers had beaten the Browns all year.

As a result of the day's action, the Yanks lead Chicago by 5 1/2 and Cleveland by six games.

Dodgers Take Beating
Brooklyn's National League advantage shrank to 1 1/2 games when they absorbed a 20-6 drubbing from the New York Giants, their worst defeat in many seasons. Hank Thompson hit two homers, one with the bases full off Ralph Branca, and drove in seven runs to let Sal Maglie ease home.

Milwaukee and St. Louis, fighting for second, split. Warren Spahn pitched his 29th major league shut-out in the first to win, 4-0, with the help of homers by Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews. Red Schoendienst's three-run pinch homer gave St. Louis the second, 4-1, halted by darkness after eight innings.

The Phillies picked up a full game on Brooklyn by nipping Pittsburgh, 2-0, in 10 innings as Robin Roberts started the winning rally with a double.

Curfew Saves Phillies
The Sunday curfew saved the Phillies a likely defeat in the second game for they trailed 7-0 after six innings when the game was stopped. It goes as a suspended game to be completed from point of interruption before an Aug. 11 night game.

Chicago and Cincinnati divided a pair of free-hitting games on "Dutch Leonard Day" at Wrigley Field. Dutch saw action in both contests and received an air-conditioned Cadillac between games. Hank Sauer hit two doubles and a single to run his string to six straight hits in helping win the first game, 8-4, but he was stopped by Clyde King in the second game.

Ralph Kiner hit his 17th and 18th homers and Sauer and Bill Serena also homered but they weren't enough to save the second game, won by Cincinnati, 8-6.

The Yanks' troubles at Washington started early when Allie Reynolds was chased in the second inning of the first game, after giving up three runs in the first.

Schmitz, third Washington pitcher in the second, thrilled the largest Griffith Stadium crowd of the year, 27,685, by holding the Yanks to five hits and one run in the final six innings.

Bob Elliott's bat backed up Pierce's pitching in the second game, against Cleveland. The veteran third baseman singled to drive in the first run and hit his seventh homer in the sixth. The Indians scored four in the seventh to pull out the opener.

The Tigers finally caught up with the Browns after losing seven straight to them and pulled within one game of seventh place. Johnny Bucha led the Tigers with a perfect 4-for-4 in the opener and Ike Boone had three hits. Ted Gray held St. Louis to four hits in the second game, the only run coming on Don Lenhardt's homer.

Races Thriller
Thrilling outdoor races marked Sunday's events. In the feature races, the Class D-E and the free for all or open event, Gordon Elson, Ishpeming speedster, showed his stern to the field. In the D-E event, Lee Manthei, Green Bay, was second, Fred Lonsdorf, Iron Mountain third and Wimpy Mineau, Gladstone, fourth. In the open race, Lonsdorf followed Elson across the finish line with Manthei third.

John Charter copped the Class A with Melvin Bentli, Michigamme, second and Rod Kelley, Gladstone, third. Shirley Ann Miller, Kingsford, went out of the race with a broken steering mechanism.

City Asks Definite
Contract From REA

Official canvass of the vote cast in the light plant bond election last Monday showed no change from the unofficial returns announced in the Daily Press last Tuesday.

On proposal 1 the vote was 860 Yes to 33 No while on proposal 2 the vote was 854 Yes to 35 No.

While in session the commission resolved to ask Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative association, to submit a definite contract by August 3 to furnish the City of Gladstone electric power. The contract so submitted is to have been approved by Rural Electrification Administration authorities and a commitment from Escanaba that they also will purchase current from the REA is also desired.

A special meeting will be called for the evening of Monday, August 3, to consider the proposal. The Alger-Delta REA now has an application for a loan to be used in financing construction of an electric generating plant and Mr. Nieuwenkamp has indicated confidence that the loan will be approved before August 1. He has met with city managers of both Escanaba and Gladstone and verbally has given them a tentative outline of the rate and contract terms he expects to be able to offer the two cities.

If the Tigers, who took St. Louis 10-7 and 7-1 Sunday, can turn the trick again tonight, they will be tied with the Browns in games behind and just five points off the pace percentage-wise.

Sunday's twin bill left St. Louis 26 games behind the leading New York Yankees and Detroit 27 games from first.

It's the closest the Tigers have come to getting out of the cellar all season. Steve Gromek was named to go against Bob Cain of the Browns in search of the big victory.

Temperature Over 100
The temperature at Busch Stadium was over 100 degrees Sunday, and that may have accounted for the hot tempers that erupted during the first game.

In the third inning Tiger catcher Johnny Bucha tried to score from third on a short fly and was tagged out by the Browns' fiery receiver, Clint Courtney. Courtney then put the ball on Bucha a second time—right in the face.

Bucha jumped up swinging and a battle was on. All the players in both dugouts rushed in.

Umpire Art Passarella ended the fracas and banished Courtney. Then the Tigers went on to their happiest doubleheader in two seasons.

Collect 16 Hits
They banged out 16 hits off five St. Louis pitchers in the opener, with Bucha getting four safeties and Ray Boone three.

Dick Weik, Hal Newhouse, Hal Erickson, and Ray Herbert all went to the mound for the Tigers, and Herbert was credited with the win. Detroit's big inning was the sixth, when the Tigers put together Steve Souchock's triple, Harvey Kuenn's double, four singles, an error and a walk for six runs.

Southpaw Ted Gray made his fourth victory in a row a masterful four-hit job in the second game. Only a home run by Don Lenhardt in the fourth spoiled a shut-out.

Detroit had not been able to beat St. Louis all season before doing it at both ends of the twin bill.

Ebasco Report Outlines Course Of Action For Problems Of U.P.

THE EBASCO REPORT
PART VII
THE SPECIFIC TASKS AHEAD
Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of seven articles summarizing the Engineering Study of the Economic Resources of the Michigan Upper Peninsula sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Commission

Now that Ebasco Services, Inc., has completed its industrial and economic survey of the Upper Peninsula, what should be done about it?

The Ebasco report outlines a definite program of action. But if any material success is to be realized from the comprehensive program, there must be organization so that the human and natural resources can be mobilized for action. This will require money, leadership and hard work.

The Ebasco report recommends that the area's development program be conducted on two basic levels: Peninsula-wide and in the individual community.

According to Ebasco, good sponsorship is of major importance in setting up new development programs. The study has revealed that there are now in the Upper Peninsula public-spirited organizations and individuals in every region who have proved themselves capable of supplying the needed leadership.

Development Bureau?
For the Peninsula-wide program, the Upper Peninsula Advisory Committee to the Michigan Economic Development Commission could well act as the sponsor. Community improvement sponsors could be the Chambers of Commerce, service clubs and civic organizations who have been active in such programs.

The Peninsula-wide economic development organization's activities should encompass all phases of the Upper Peninsula economy. The Ebasco report states that its program should function in the fields of community improvement, business and industrial development, agricultural expansion, a recreation and tourist promotion. Its staff should include professional development personnel.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, with its record of 42 years of Peninsula-wide development, should be logically the nucleus of the proposed enlarged Peninsula-wide organization.

Report Is Specific
If the Development Bureau accepts responsibility for the program, this would require a substantial increase in the Bureau's budget. The Peninsula-wide development program should be soundly financed, the report emphasizes.

The Ebasco report, fortunately, did not deal in generalities and platitudes. It lists a number of specific activities that the Peninsula-wide development group might foster and promote. These specific activities include:

Expansion of electric power capacity, much needed in the Upper Peninsula if industry is to be expanded.

Expansion of natural gas into the Upper Peninsula.

Construction of the proposed Straits of Mackinac bridge.

Construction of a bridge between the American and Canadian Soos.

Improved ferry service between Frankfort and the west shore of Lake Michigan in the Upper Peninsula.

Better Transportation

Improvement of transportation facilities including east and west airline service between Upper Peninsula cities and additional interstate airline service.

Early establishment of television service in the Upper Peninsula. Studies on industrial financing, freight problems, and the continuing collection of basic economic data pertaining to the area for use of existing and prospective businesses and industries. Publicity emphasizing the favorable experiences of diverse Upper Peninsula industries not dependent on the natural resources of the area and counteracting the false adverse opinion of Upper Peninsula weather held by many outsiders.

Encouragement of favorable legislation and attitudes that would improve the economic climate of the U. P. and discourage unfavorable legislation and regulations.

Activity to stimulate and aid communities throughout the area in organizing and conducting effective economic development programs.

Balance Is Needed
Expansion and acceleration of training programs for resort operators and their personnel.

The Ebasco report emphasizes this fact:

One of the major objectives of any economic development program is the securing of new industries and business enterprises. Quite often too much emphasis will be placed on this activity and not enough on the development of existing businesses and industries.

Both these activities should be kept in balance at all times. Existing industries should be given first consideration in cases where their operations can be improved and expanded to bring about the industrial production desired in the area.

The Ebasco report points out that the attraction of new industries requires certain expenditures, for such purposes as: preparation of promotional literature; direct mail campaigns, out-of-town trips and local visits of prospects.

What They Look For

An industry looking for a new location has certain general requirements. Among these are:

A receptive attitude by the community.

A sympathetic local government.

Adequate markets for its products within reasonable distances.

An adequate industrial site with utilities and transportation facilities for raw materials, finished products and workers.

Suitable building space for present requirements with room for economical expansion.

Labor supply for required skills, age brackets and temperament.

Suitable housing for executives and workers.

Business services adequate for routine needs.

An attractive community in which it can become a working partner.

With regard to inducements to attract industries, the Ebasco report states that the soundest method seems to be those now being used successfully by Industrial Foundations in the Upper Peninsula.

The modernizing of existing buildings for industrial use and construction of new buildings have been undertaken and the costs have been recovered by the foundations through lease agreements.

Escanaba and Stephenson have been successful in attracting substantial industries by following this plan.

People Are Asset

The Ebasco report, in particular, emphasizes that the greatest single asset in the Upper Peninsula is the character of the people themselves. They are adaptable to new methods, have excellent attitudes toward their jobs and have a record of high productivity per worker in many industrial fields.

The people have their roots deeply imbedded in their communities in the Upper Peninsula. In times of low labor demands in outside metropolitan centers, the workers who have come from the U. P. invariably return to their home communities.

The people of the Upper Peninsula communities are affected less by economic cycles than people in the metropolitan centers, since they have the opportunity to supplement their income with farms, woodlots, hunting and fishing, and by participation in the recreation industry.

But the continual yearly loss, to other areas, of the aggressive young people of the Upper Peninsula is a problem of major proportions. The glamour of jobs in metropolitan centers is seriously draining this vital element of the labor pool.

Ebasco urges that development groups consider the correction of this situation as one of the first steps in their problems. Attractive job opportunities must be developed for high school and college graduates.

Already At Work

Industrial, business and civic leaders of the U. P. have not waited for the release of the Ebasco report before laying plans for the future. They are eager to get going.

The Economic Development Commission's committee in charge of the Economic Study and the executive committee of the U. P. Development Bureau met at Iron Mountain on June 2nd to preview the Ebasco survey.

A run-down of the report was given by Arthur L. Grede, vice president of the Grede Foundries of Milwaukee and Iron Mountain, member of the Commission, who then raised the question:

"What is the best possible use of the Ebasco report for the maximum advantage to the U. P.?"

Following the Iron Mountain conference, a joint committee from the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the Economic Development Commission's U. P. Advisory Committee was appointed to consider the most practical application.

This joint committee met with the Economic Development Commission at its Sault Ste. Marie meeting last week, as did the entire advisory committee of the Commission, and now representatives of the Bureau and the Commission are at work to perfect plans for practical implementation of the Ebasco Report.
